S I R,

YOU have already heard the good Tidings of that eminent Victory obtained by His Majesties Forces against the Rebels; and this comes onely to satisfie you, in some particulars of that glorious Action, the success whereof, hath caused a new face of things, dispersing all those black Clouds that seemed to threaten this poor Kingdom, which now appears in a posture of Joy and Triumph; and we do not doubt but in very few days we shall be restored to an intire Tranquility, for the Body of the Nation was not at all Tainted or Infected with the Rebellious poison, but upon all occasions are ready to express their Loyalty, whereof they have in this juncture given signal instances, by their ready and chearful coming out to serve His Majesty, and the general abhorrence they every where express against these insolent Rebels, their Principles and Practices; and all that abet or comply with them.

A and

Of these vile wretches, no fewer than 1200 were this afternoon brought in Prisoners hither, and for the present are kept in the Gray-friars Church-yard, under a very strong Guard. And we have a certain Account, that there were killed of their Party at Bothwell-Bridge, and about Hamilton-Park, 800 and upwards, besides the great numbers that have been slain upon the pursuit.

Our gallant General, his Highness the Duke of Buchlugh and Monmouth, gave fresh proofs of his Conduct and Courage in this Affair, and we know not which we ought first to admire, his indefatigable Prudence in giving the necessary Orders, or, his Courage and Bravery in charging the thickest of the Rebels, without the least apprehension of danger. Animated by his great Example, the whole Nobility and Gentry behaved themselves with a singular Gallantry; nor were any of our Troops wanting in their duty, or that deserved not a particular recommendation; especially Captain Graham of Claver-house, who with his own hands took the two Standards before-mentioned, his Troop remembering the slaughter the Rebels made amongst them, on the 29th of May, resolved not to have full satisfaction, and therefore utterly refused either to give or take Quarter. Likewise some High-landers belonging to the Earl of Murry, and the Earl of Morr, charged the Rebels Left-wing with such fury, that the slain were left on the place as it were in heaps.

The Rebels had 4 pieces of Canon, one of which they threw into the River of Clyd, the other 3 were taken. And that you may judge of the temper of the Men, and what Cruelties they would have exercised, had they been Masters of the Field. I must not forget to inform you, that there were likewise taken two pair of Gallows, which they carried along with them; One was like our ordinary Tools of that kind, and this was for the poorer sort. But the other, being intended tended for the Gentry, was of a mode wholly new, and so curiously contrived, that I know not well how to describe it; 'Tis one freight piece of Wood with a Screw, having 12 or 15 branches which screwed up to the top, where there was a cross piece of wood full of long Iron Spikes, on which the Heads of Persons of Quality were to be fixt; and each of the aforesaid Branches had an Iron Hook at the end, to hang people on. Thus the insolent and cruel Rebels had prepared, like proud Haman, their Gallows for the Kings good Subjects; but like him too, are themselves like to suffer on them, as they well deserve for their Treason:

Just now News is brought, that Capt. Graham of Claverhouse having pursued a Party of the Rebels Horse as far as Air, did there so warmly Engage them, that most of them are d or taken Prisoners; amongst which last, 'tis said, is Wells, that notorious Preaching Trumpet of Sedition.

There have been since Sunday killed in several places above 400, and divers of the Kings Forces are still abroad in Parties in pursuit of them, and hourly pick up some of them; but the General with the Gros of the Army, is at present at Ruglen, and intend for Glasgow to morrow.

The Privy-Council have ordered diligent search to be made amongst the Prisoners and the slain, for the Murtherers of his Grace the late Arch-Bishop of St. Andrews; and that if any of them be found amongst the Dead, their Bodies to be hang'd up in Chains; if amongst the Prisoners, that they shall more strictly be secured in order to their Tryal.

Many of the Prisoners seem to be very sensible of their Wickedness in joyning in this horrid Rebellion, and do Confess, that their Ministers drew them into the same, by bold and seditious Sermons, perverting and abusing Scripture, scandalizing and mis-representing the Government and chief Magistrates; and withal to encourage them, had given them great assurances of large Supplies and Assistance both of Men and Money from England and Ireland.

Take

Take here the Names of the Heritors and persons of Name amongst the Rebels.

The Lairds of Earlston, the elder and the younger.
Two Brothers of the Earl of Galloway.
The young Laird of Caitlaw.
The Laird of Ketloch.
The Laird of Blairquan.
Cunningham of Mongrinam.
Tho. Bogle of Boglebol.
Hamilton of Kinkel, taken.
Balfar of Kinloch, killed.
Robert Hamilton Brother to Preston.
Major Lermouth.

Ministers known to be amongst the Rebels.

John Welsh taken.

John Kidd taken.
Will. Foster.
Tho. Douglas.

Sam. Arnot.
John Rea.

James Semple.

'Tis not doubted but this total Defeat hath utterly this dangerous Rebellion, and will very much contribut to the Peace of this Nation for the future ; by opening the eyes of the People, not to suffer themselves to be led into wicked and fatal Enterprises, by a turbulent sort of signing Kirkmen.

A PROCLAMATION

Against PAPISTS.

CHARLES, by the Grace of God, King of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, To Our Lyon King at Arms, and his brethren Heralds, Macers, Pursuivants or Messengers at Arms, Our Sheriffs in that part, conjunctly and severally specially constitute, Greeting; Forasmuch as We and Our Royal Ancestours, have always made it Our chief Care to preserve Religion in its purity, and to see the Almighty God (from whom alone We derive Our Power) Worshipped in Our Kingdoms, with that profound Submission and Reverence, which is due to His Great and Holy Name, knowing that Sincerity in Religion is the surest Foundation of Obedience to Us, and Unanimity in it, is the firmest Band of Peace and Concord among Our Subjects: And We having of late found, that the Rotten, as well as Idolatrous Principles of the Papists, have incited these of that Profession, to contrive Plots against Our Royal Person, and Alterations in the Government of Our Kingdoms, to the Subversion of the Protestant Religion, which is (through God's infinite Goodness) established by Law, and of the Civil Rights and Prerogatives of Our Crown, endeavouring to enslave Us, Our Subjects and Our Conscience, to the Pope and See of Rome, notwithstanding of the great Clemency shown by Us to them, since God Restored Us to Our Government, under which they have abundantly tasted of the Fruits of that Peace, which We have procured to Our Subjects by Our Royal Care: And yet We being unwilling to punish such as may be reclaimed, or to surprize even such as are irreclaimable, Have therefore, with Advice of Our Privy Council, thought fit, hereby to Command all Jesuits and other Priests, or Trafficking Papists, to Depart forth of this Our Kingdom, betwixt and the first day of March next; with Certification, that all such Jesuits, Priests, and Trafficking Papists, shall be found within this Our Kingdom after that day, shall be proceeded against Criminally, conform to the 120. Act of the 12. Parl. of K. James the 6. Whereby they, and such as Resettled them, are declared guilty of, and made lyable to the pains of Treason; and that We will put the Laws in Execution, which are made by Us and Our Predecessours, against Sayers and Hearers of Masse. And to the end, that Our Faithful and Orthodox Subjects, may be secured against the dreadfull Effects of such blind and bloody Zeal, as concludes nothing a Crime which may enlarge that Sect, or advance that Profession. We do hereby Command and Charge all Papists, of what quality soever, within this Our Kingdom, To deliver up (upon Oath) their Arms of all sorts to the Sheriffs, Stewarts, Lords of Regality, and Magistrates of Burghs, within whose Jurisdiction they live, and that betwixt and the respective dayes following, viz. These on the South side of the Water of Eske, betwixt and the twenty day of February; and these on the North side of the said Water, betwixt and the twenty day of March next: Certifying them, if they shall be found to have any Arms, after the dayes foresaid respective, they shall be proceeded against with all Rigor, as Contemners of Our Authority: Ordaining hereby our saids Sheriffs, and other Magistrates foresaid, to search for Arms suspect to be undelivered, belonging to Papists, in any houses or places suspected, and to seize upon, and secure the same; As also in their several Bounds to search for, take, and apprehend, all such Jesuits, Priests, and Trafficking Papists, as shall be found therein after the day foresaid, and to commit them to the next convenient and sure Prison, therein to remain, till they receive due punishment according to Law, as it is appointed by the 8. Act of the 1. Session of Our 1. Parliament: And to return to Our Council an Exact Account of their Diligence in the Premises, betwixt and the days following, viz. These on the South-side of the said Water of Esk, betwixt and the first Thursday of March; and these on the North-side of the said Water of Esk, betwixt and the first Thursday of April next, as they will be answerable at their highest perill. And further, We do hereby Command all the Judges, in Our respective Judicatures, that they suffer none to bear any publick Office, nor be admitted Procurator, Notar, or Member of Court, as also that the Officers of our standing Forces and Militia, permit none to bear Arms under Us, unless they profess the True Reformed Protestant Religion, established within this Our Realm, conforme to the 5. Act of the 1. Parl. of King James the 6. And we hereby discharge all Our Nobility, and others, to send their Children abroad with Pedagogues or Governours to be bred in Forraign Kingdoms, unless they have Testimonials from the Bishop of the Diocess, and that at their Return, the saids Children go to the Bishop, and give him an Account of the Confession of their Faith; discharging their Parents, if they turn Papists, to entertain or furnish them after their perversion, unless with as much as may bring them home under the pains and penalties exprest in the 71 Act of the 6. Parl. of K. James the 6. And in the first Act of the 16. Parl. of K. James the 6. viz. Every Earl contraveining, five thousand pounds Scots; Every Lord, five thousand Merks; Every Baron, three thousand Merks; And for preventing of which Errors in the rising Generations, We Ordain the Lords of Our Privy Council to take from Popish Parents and Tutors, all their children or pupills, and to commit their Education to such well affected and Religious Friends, as We or they shall name, conforme to the 9.
